(c) In a case recently laid before me, it was alleged, that this Anthony Browne did not dye with issue, but married Bridget Macker, & by her had issue according to the following pedigree, which is a copy of that now accompanying the case laid before me.

Anthony Browne the eldest son of Francis the 3rd Viscount Montague, whom the family pedigree states to be born in 1622 & to have dyed unmarried before 1682 without showing at what particular time he dyed or where he was buried, was a major in the service of King Charles the first in a volunteer regiment at York in 1644, & was wounded in the leg, & taken prisoner in a sally from there, or at the battle on Marston Moor. But afterwards escaping he came to the town of a small village in the parish of Chesterfield in Derbyshire, where he lived incog many years without having any intercourse with his father & brothers, who had joined the parliamentary army. He married 10. Jan. 1643-4. & dyed in the year 1666 in the lifetime of his father & was buried at Newbold in the Roman Catholic Chapel there.

Bridget Macker the daughter James Macker Esquire, who was his two sons lost their lives & pe-ties in the King's service at the of Marston Moor. He survives husband 34 years, dyed at Wing-worth, & was buried at Newbold chapel in the year 1700.

A Genealogical Table of the Noble Family of TOWNSHEND, Viscount TOWNSHEND, &c.

THE LATE MARQUIS OF TOWNSHEND.

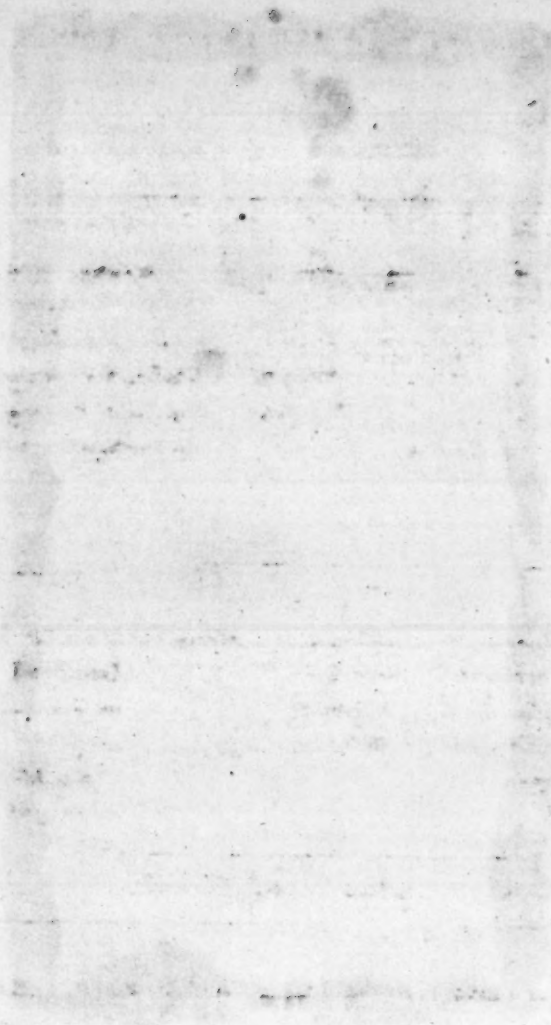

The following are the heads of this Nobleman's last will:—

To his daughters, Misses Elizabeth, Harriet, and Isabella, 2,000l. each, in addition to settlement upon them by deed made in March last; to his brother Lord John Townshend, 2,000l.; Mr. Robert Blake, Essex street, Strand, 1,000l.; Miss Warrup, of Sloane-street, 10,000l. and all messuages, lands, and premises, furniture, pictures, plate, and effects, at Richmond. Deficiency of personal estate to pay debts, legacies, &c. to be charged on the real estate.

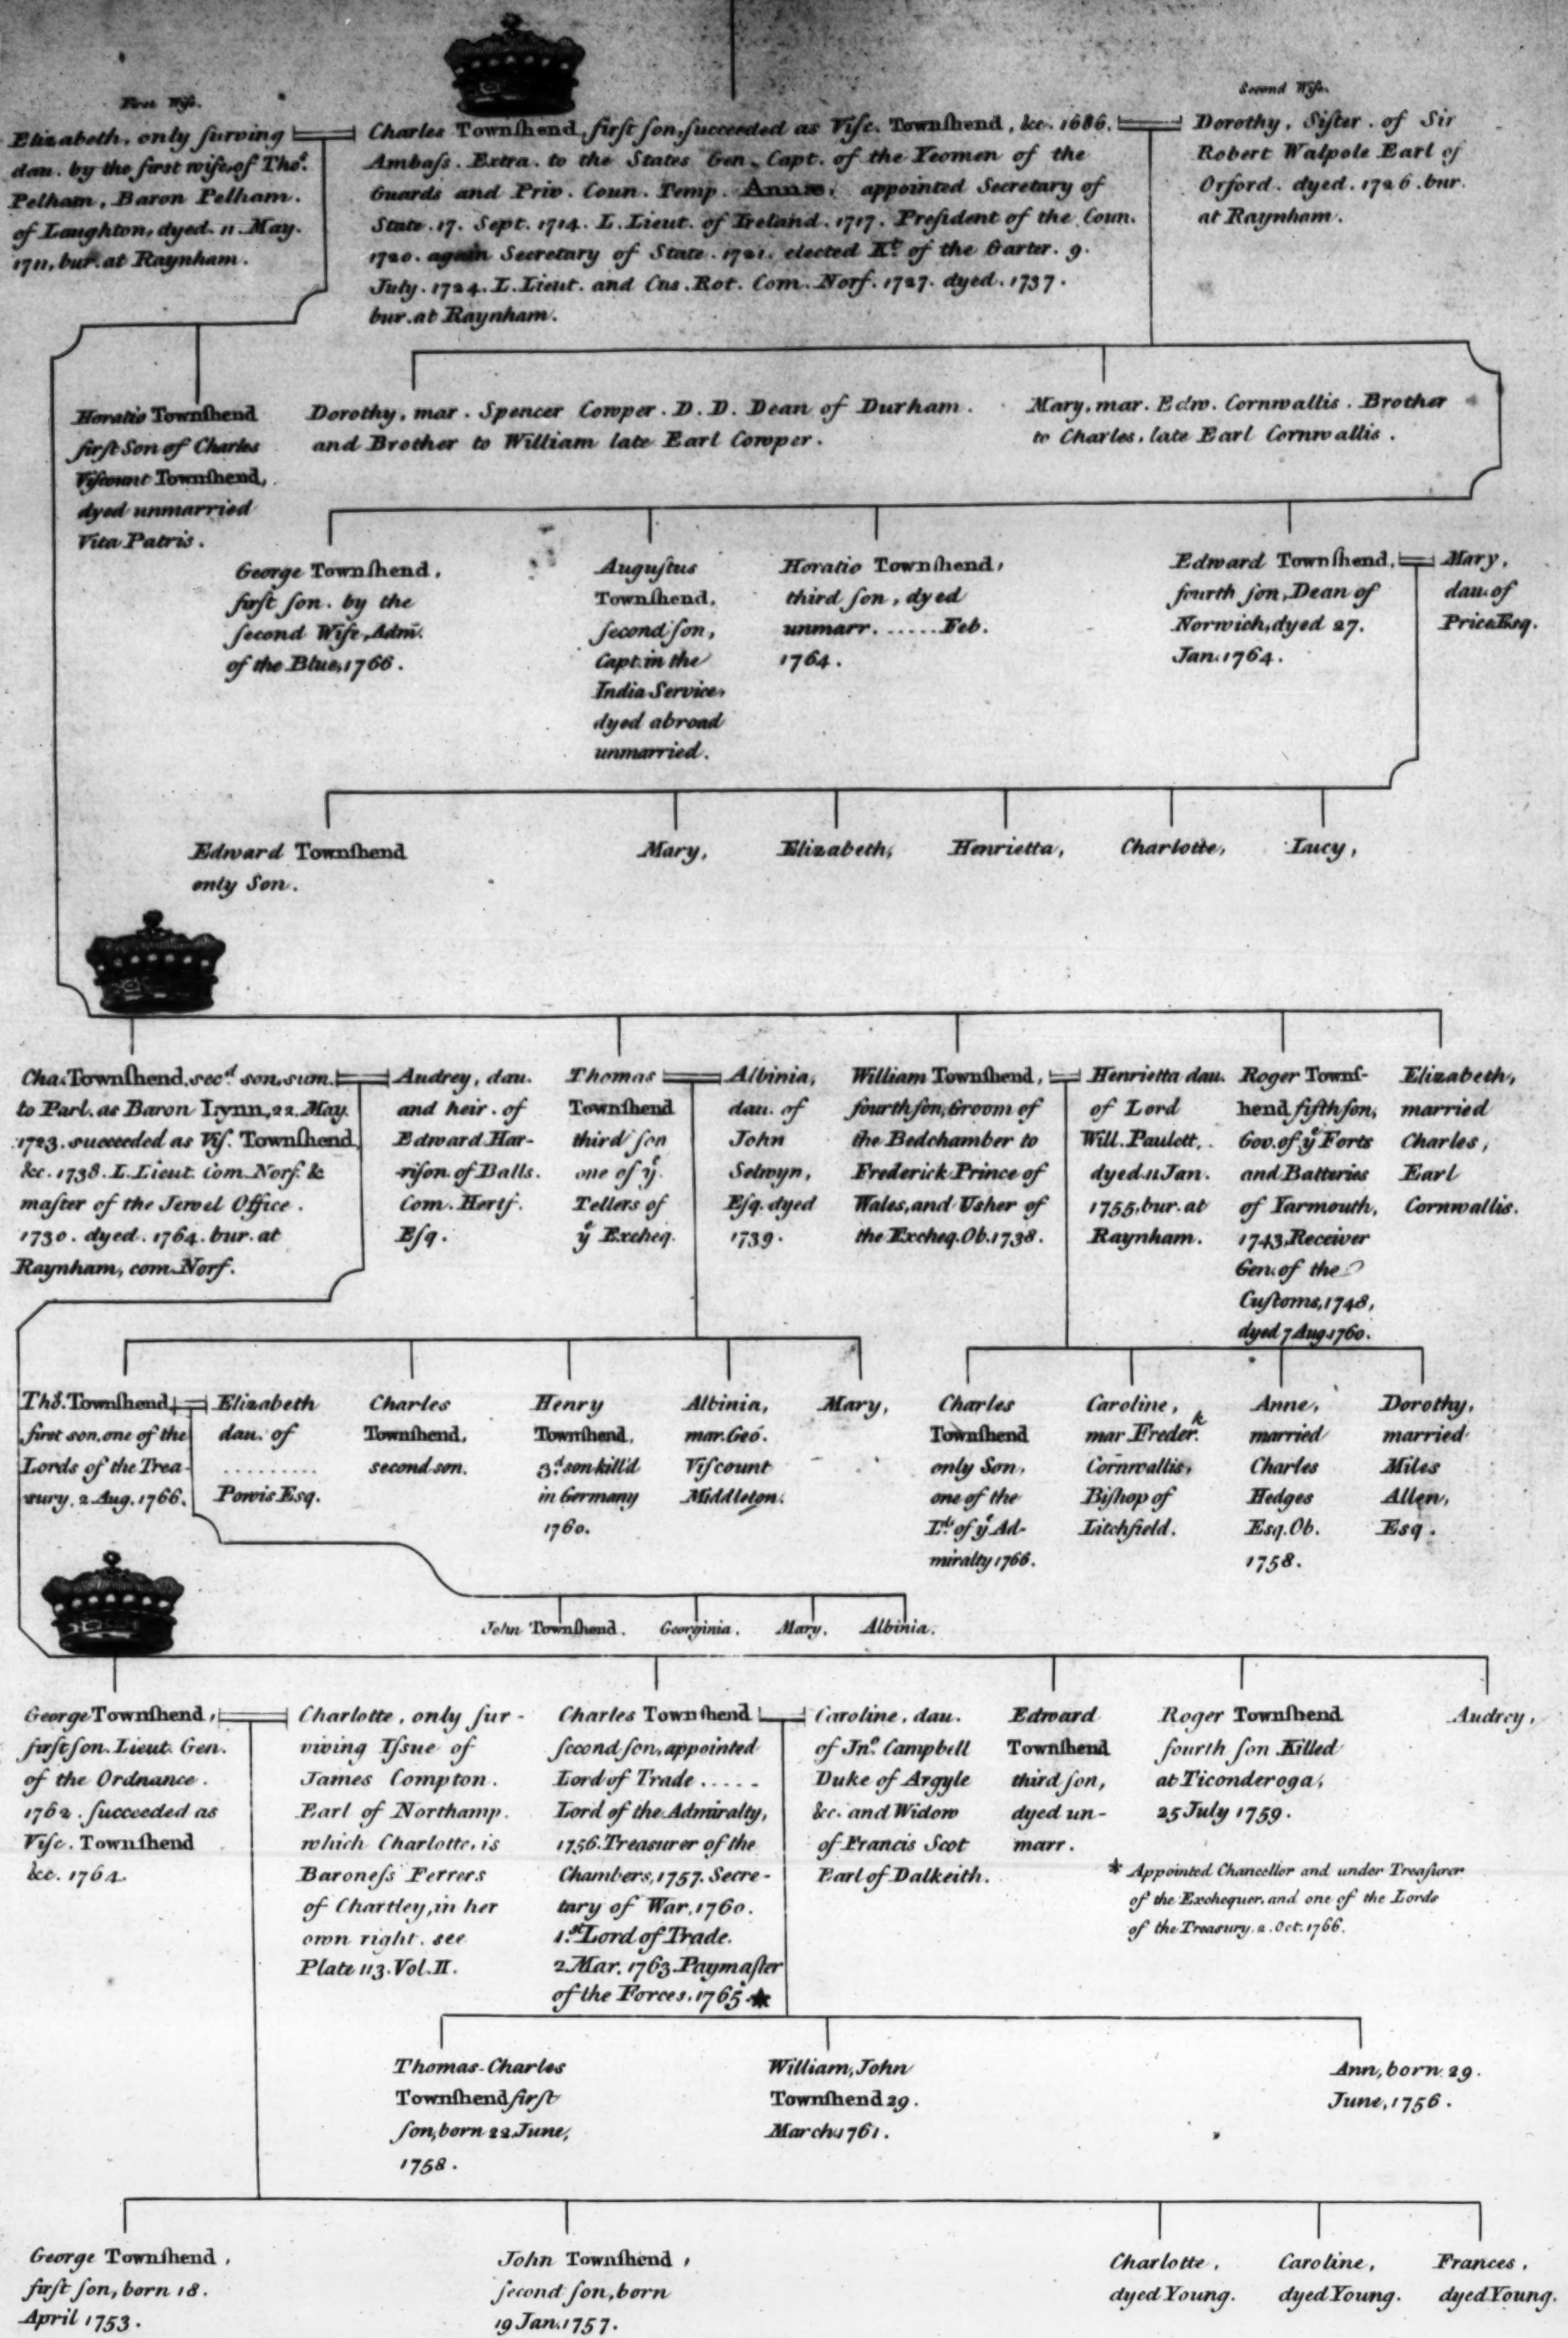

The real estate is devised to executors, in trust, for 21 years, to pay testator's son, Lord Charles Vere Ferrars Townshend, 4,000l. per annum, free of deductions, except property-tax; during that time timber (not for ornament) to be cut, and the surplus receipts of estates, subject to said annuity, to accumulate. If the said Charles Vere Ferrars Townshend shall be living at the end of said 21 years, he is to have full possession of said estates and accumulations for life. After his death remainder to his heirs male; remainder to Lord John Townshend and his heirs male; remainder, as to estates in Norfolk, to the testator's half brother, Lord James Townshend, and his heirs male; and remainder of all other estates to testator's daughters, and their issue, with cross remainders. Power is given to tenants for life in said estates to jointure to the amount of 500l. and to settle portions on younger children to the amount of 10,000l.

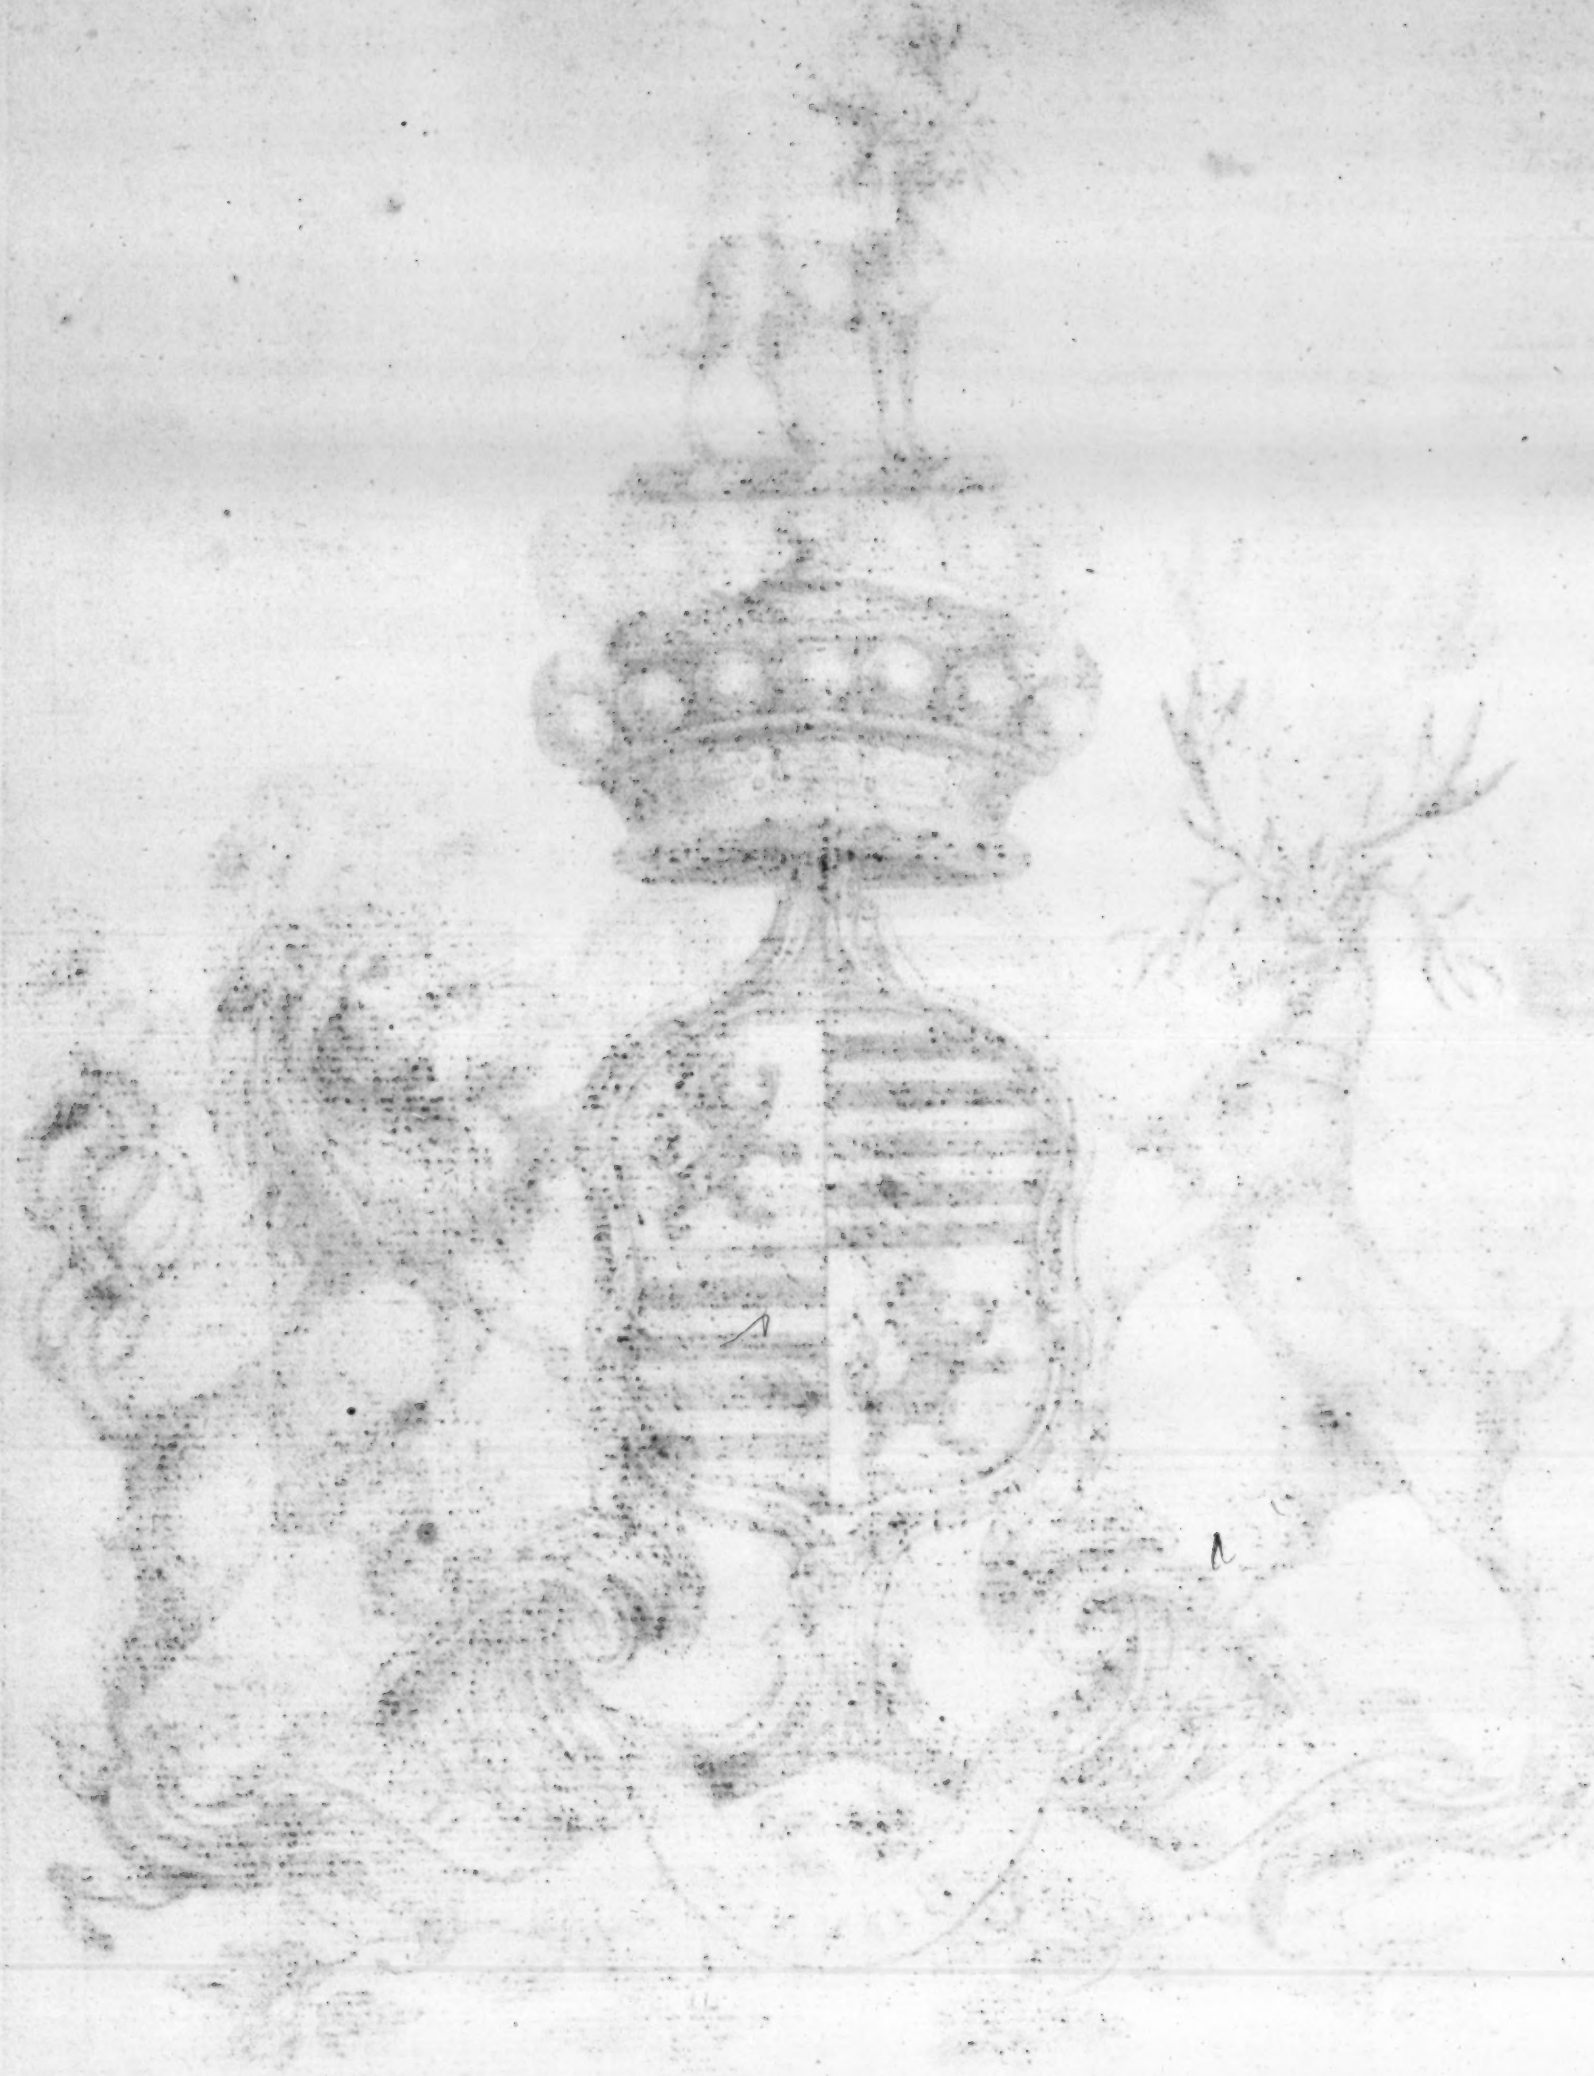

Furniture, plate, pictures, cabinets, &c. &c. at Rainham and Tamworth, are to descend as heirlooms, but the wine and household stock go to Lord Charles Vere Ferrars Townshend absolutely. Residue of personal estate is left to executors, for the purchase of real estate.
